

WINERIES AND HOSPITABLE LANDS

Vacanze
PAVESI

As far back as 40 BC, writers and historians were singing the praises of Clastidium, as Casteggio was known at the time. Strabo wrote of 'good wine, friendly people'. Indeed, according to him the wine barrel itself was invented by the inhabitants of this little town that perches between the wine hills of Oltrepò Pavese and the flood plains of Lombardy.

Length: 76 KM

